

Temperance Column.

By the Ocala Temperance Reform Club.

Edited by J. A. Munden.

The Club meets every Sunday afternoon at four o'clock in Temperance Hall. The Public are invited.

SALOON SOVEREIGNTY.

To destroy the sovereignty of the saloon is the most imperative duty of the American people. Silver bills, civil service, tariff reform are only straws on the wind compared with this fundamental question of society: "How can the sovereignty of the saloon be destroyed?"

And the sovereignty of the saloon cannot be destroyed while the saloon itself exists. The same causes that have given it its supremacy will continue to make it supreme. While it exists it will continue to do its work. Restrictions are now threads that snap asunder at the first strain. Regulation is simply legalization.

The church should rise from its apathy and assert its tremendous power. The great parties should shake off the thrall of the saloon. The press should see its duty and do it. Everything good and pure should unite, and leave to the saloon the hopelessly lost and miserably abandoned criminal classes of society.—D. C. Eddy, D. D.

To sell drink for a livelihood is bad enough, but for the whole community to share the responsibility and guilt of such a traffic seems a worse bargain than that of Eve and Judas.—Horace Greeley.

There is no inherent right in a citizen to sell intoxicating drinks by retail; it is not a privilege of a citizen of a state, or of the United States.—U. S. Supreme Court.

Prohibition truthfully says, "If we wait until the law is wanted by all the people, no law will be necessary."

There are thirty continuous miles of saloons in the city of New York.

No government has a right to license a wrong.

When wine is in, wit is out.

A PLEASANT PARTY.

Miss Eva Gray entertained a baker's dozen of her young friends at her home on South Main street yesterday evening.

The time passed very pleasantly with games and conversation, and a nice little supper was served at 9 o'clock.

Miss Eva is a charming hostess, and knows how to make things pleasant for her friends.
